311, Don't Dwell

Every time I get near your field of gravity You look so sad to me, tell me how could that be? ah- ah she said things I obsess I would never confess

ah- ah I told her don't dwell That will leave you in hell

Sometimes things that you're scorned for You should be adored for But like I told her don't dwell

I know my love that I look dilapidated But are you glad I made it Can you tell me that much ah-ah Why are you surprised I don't take my advice

ah-ah she told me don't dwell That will leave you in hell

Sometimes I need reminding Regret is so blinding But like I told me don't dwell

Everything is a choice Go ahead raise your voice Might as well forgive your self That means more than someone else Set you free break the shell To your demons farewell (Ooh na na na na) I tell you don't dwell Everything is a choice Go ahead raise your voice Might as well forgive your self That means more than someone else Set you free break the shell To your demons farewell (Ooh na na na na) I tell you don't dwell
