

A Beautiful Silence, Make Your Move

You know that I've got my eyes on you
I have for a while not don't be scared
I've got nothing but good intentions
O did I mention I'm for real
Now press your lips against mine
I don't mine
Place your hands on my face
To embrace
Live in the moment before you know it
It's done
There's only one first and there's only one last
And it's time

To make your move I adore you and you know it don't you?
Don't you tell me your not ready to take this chance
And lets say that you were to die tonight
My whole world would be turned upside down and inside out
Now I've got myself in a situation that calls for attention
But I've got no worries those things they call worries they don't exist
I take my time I've got nine lives and I've died only twice
For a limited time only nine ninety nine ill sell you my soul
