

A.F.I., He Who Laughs Last...

no trust
can be given freely , it's a valuable commodity but obviously this is something you never learned faith is something that you put in friends and had i excess morals to lend i'd let you borrow them but my trust you haven't earned!
we've got a problem
first of all: there is no we, i'm detached from you completely i've got a problem: you tell lies to my friends and think it won't get back to me
no bond
could ever seem to make a stable fit in our relationship but one thing that never comes between us is honesty
when you've got something to say you always seem to find away to avoid the truth or instead you avoid me!
we've got a problem: first of all there is no we, i'm detached from you completely
i've got a problem: you tell lies to my friends and think it won't get back to me
no trust!

NO TRUST...

Can be given freely,
Its' a valuable commodity,
But obviously this is something you've
NEVER LEARNED.

Faith is something that you put in friends,
And had i excess morals to lend,
I'd let you borrow them,
But my trust you HAVEN'T EARNED

We've got a problem?
First of all there is no "we",
I'm detached from you completely.
I've got a problem.

You tell lies to my friends
And think it won't get back to me...

NO BOND

Can ever seem to make
A stable fit in our relationship,
But one thing that never comes between us is HONESTY.

When you have something to say,
You always seem to find a way,
To avoid the truth or instead,
You avoid me!

We've got a problem?
First of all there is no "we",
I'm detached from you completely.
I've got a problem.

You tell lies to my friends
And think it won't get back to me...

STRAIGHT UP

Is how you'll see me stand,
But it is never in your plans,
To be straight forward,
So instead, you use
DECEIT.

Now I would like to take apart,
What you've been breaking from the start.
I'll remain intact,
I won't be broken in defeat.

We've got a problem?
First of all there is no "we",
I'm detached from you completely.
I've got a problem.

You tell lies to my friends
And think it won't get back to me....
