Aaron Neville, I'm Waiting At The Station

Train whistle blowin' around the bend But I can hear it comin' in That's the train my baby's on But now she's gonna bring her home Got a letter yesterday This is what she had to say Meet me at the station a quarter to ten Let's try it over again Waitin' at the station happy as can be, now Waitin' at the station for my baby My lonely nights are over from this day on Since my baby's coming back home The train pulled in a few minutes late But I didn't mind that little wait That train is carrying medicine for heartaches and pain For this lonely man Everybody's gettin' off one by one Tellin' their friend where they've been and what they've done But where is my girl, everybody's off the train She made a fool of me again Waitin' at the station sad as can be, now Waitin' at the station for my baby, now My nights will still be lonely on and on Since my baby didn't come home Waitin' at the station sad as can be, now Waitin' at the station for my baby My nights will still be lonely, on and on Since my baby didn't come home Waitin' at the station sad as can be, now Waitin' at the station for my baby My nights will still be lonely, on and on

Since my baby didn't come home