

Abney Park, The Only One

I wake each night into this nightmare
Only to find that the worst is clear
I have to spend each day without you
And spend each night dreamin' that it's not true
Dreamin' that it's not true

My life is one constant catastrophe everything works but means nothin to me
All of my life I gave you my soul
I lived for you, but you had another goal
You had another goal

There's only one thing you can't ask of me
It's not in my power to stop loving you can't you see?
I would give you the moon or the stars or the sun
But you hold my heart and ou are the only one

You are the only one
You are the only one
