

Abominant, Shadows Land

thy eyes pierce crimson moonlight I sleep in lunar spheres. I awake within the land of beautiful darkness. nocturnal love. theres no sun in shadows land. the only light is the moonlit night. I walk along with the beasts and serpents, nothing do I fear. at one with the burning blackness. blood running tears, dark figures in the night. the black clouds in the sky. whispers from the other side. theres no more fear of the darkside. do you feel the sensations run up and down your side? look deep within you. see what is in your shadow-filled heart. my ears hear the masters call. screams of revelation and ending times. the rights of law have been broken...broken. crying tears of solar winds. a breeze of cryptic shrieks from below...dying. a place of stunning sights. a place so cold that no one knows. ive seen the days of sorrow-filled ways. the passionate love of dusk. fear in the weak minded fools. strong are the chosen few. black are my ways in every move I make. I stand at the temple of the moon. anointed king of the night. wears the crown of swords. bestowed upon me. shadows land and the infinite kingdom.
