

About Us, Right Now

We left it falling
In the cold with no tomorrow
Walking away in silence
Leaving all the things behind

I know it's hard to see and draw the lines
I know it's hard to start and walk the miles
You know baby, baby, we're lost without our love

Come, come, back to it right now
I know we wanna go stronger
We are one in motion, riding off into the twilight
Come, come, back to it right now
I know we'll make it go deeper
Hold it now, in your arms tonight
This is what we're meant to be

Never say never, it's too right to let it go
Junkies of pain, that's the way we lived to feel
I know it's hard to wish and dream for more
I know it's hard to make it to the end of time
But we are addicted to the pain and love we made

With the blood & tears we gave it all
With everything we've got, this is us
Withered hearts in fall, we hold in all
Changes can never change us.
