

Abra Moore, Birthday Song

For you are so beautiful
And you are so wild
And you are so young
Could you stay the way you are?
You don't have to carry
This world on your shoulders
This life can be scary
But when you get older
Well, I don't have no magic map
To help guide you along your path
I just wish you
All the best in this world
For you are so beautiful
And you are so wild
And you are so young
Could you keep it in your heart?

And there you are
You're way above the rafters
I'm coming after you, yeah
I pull you back
But you keep crawling back for more
You keep crawling back for more
Go get your life
It's out there calling to you
Yeah, you got the light
For you are so beautiful
And you are so wild
And you are so young
You just stay the way you are, yeah
Yeah
