

Acumen Nation, Just A Bastard

god doesn't keep the failures from me it's like an assassin for the better half the weak are just washing upon the shores and I've got a need to always kick 'em down knee jerk reaction, got a mouth on me sure to make enemies of best friends why am I stricken with a pair of these lips likened to poison in a rat trap?

are you still.. down with me?

got a knack for knocking all my loved ones down maybe it keeps 'em always coming back how can I expect to ever be loved when all I can do is just to break you down?

never think to censor the pride inside take a shot for nothing rather than not always have to have the last word, no matter what is it in my blood to have to take you down?

are you still.. down with me?

'cause I am just a bastard and I always will.. be a stupid, fucking.. bastard

are you still.. down with me?

always.. be a.. stupid, fucking...
