

Ad Infinitum, Animals

We are animals

I'm not afraid of the monster in you
I heard the stories and I hope they are true
Adrenaline is calling my name
No hesitation darling, I'm still waiting
And for the first time I will feel alive, alive

Offer me a world of shadows and eternity
We are animals
Hunting for another supper, for another prey
Losing our soul
The love for danger is rushing through my veins
Offer me your world, your thirst for immortality
We are animals

I will unleash the rage, the fury
My primitive and my wildest instincts
Get rid of all the complications
Of human paradoxes, all frustrations
The meaningless is no longer welcomed now

Offer me a world of shadows and eternity
We are animals
Hunting for another supper, for another prey
Losing our soul
The love for danger is rushing through my veins
Offer me your world, your thirst for immortality
We are animals

Subconsciously, our primitive instincts are puppeteers of the mind
Handcuffed by the rules and limits we applied

WILD! All my senses awaken, I was buried alive
SCREAM! All the hidden desires, I am reborn tonight

Offer me a world of shadows and eternity
We are animals
Hunting for another supper, for another prey
Losing our soul
The love for danger is rushing through my veins
Offer me your world, your thirst for immortality
We are animals
