

Ad Infinitum, Son Of Wallachia

Oh I'm feeling like a warrior
Oh the world I knew is on fire

Here comes the rain one more time
But hope shines bright here in my heart
Homeland awaits, I will be back
But what will I find? So many seasons died

And I hope someday this place will feel the same
So I can call it home again, call it home again
But for now

Oh
I'm feeling like a warrior
On a battlefield without my armour
And oh
The world I knew is on fire

They tried to kill my will to fly
To silence me, shouting louder
I feel the anger inside
What's righteously mine, I will take back

I will fear no man, no pain, no sacrifice, no
And no storm will drag me down, until the day I die
But for now

Oh
I'm feeling like a warrior
On a battlefield without my armour
And oh
The world I knew is on fire

Oh
I'm feeling like a warrior
On a battlefield without my armour
And oh
The world I knew is on fire
