

Adhesive, Your World Of Noones

Time is running out for you just like the even flow of your own lies Time was never on your side but you were too self-righteous to even notice Your problems are taking over soon you've got noone on your side Life wasn't too kind to you I know but it gives you no right to be a martyr Life makes its own rules but you're far too ignorant to face the truth
Your problems are taking over
soon you've got noone on your side You're number one in a world of noones flying false flag won't get you far...
