

Adrina Thorpe, fly fly fly

Adrina Thorpe

Elusive

fly fly fly

I'm in a blue petal sky...roses, daisies spinning inside my mind and I float through the mist, the world below me seems so far behind like I can fly fly fly. nothing seems to matter now that you're here beside me. fly fly fly. when I'm here with you I feel alive and all the cars swirling by in motion seem like they could be paralyzed. and the light inside me feels so bright it's hard for me to deny now that I've settled into safeness, slowly, sure, unafraid, I want to soak in your love till it seeps through my bones.

I want to rest in your touch, pause in your eyes, realize that life is beautiful when you're here and I feel so open.
