

Against Myself, Demons

I make humanity cease to exist,
demons become wizards of influence.
I make appearance prevail over the essence.
My power seduces you
leaving the ambitious with an empty mind.

Look at me:
I'm the reflection of your inner desolation.
Put a number to your dreams.
Sell your soul and watch it burn!

Your senses are dominated by greed and deceit.

What is the price of your time?
Was it worth the pride?
You can pay for a body but not for a smile.

Look at me:
I'm the reflection of your inner desolation.
Put a number to your dreams.
Sell your soul and watch it burn!

You want to own everything.
You're poisoning yourself.
You want to become a god
through the suffering.

Your judgment has come. No false tears or lies.
Hold on to your life and say goodbye to your soul.

Take a look around,
where are all the forests?
Were they all cut down to make your wallet wider?

You sold us!
Betrayed us!

And take a look around,
where are all the voices?
Were they sacrificed to make your wallet wider?

Look at me:
I'm the reflection of your inner desolation.
Put a number to your dreams.
Sell your soul and watch it burn!

Look at me:
I'm the reflection of your inner desolation.
Put a number to your dreams.
Sell your soul and watch it burn!

For many riches you got, you are worthless.
You are empty inside.
You are meant to be alone,
your life is burning now!

The past condemns you,
now you seek forgiveness.
Guilt will absorb you.
At the end you'll be forgotten
without peace, pride or love.
