

Against Myself, Shadows in My Head

I open my eyes and I just see the storm of a place
I don't know
My mind tries to think how I got here
but I cannot remember...
Where am I?
I don't understand
This is not my site
they keep me here without escape
I don't know who you are
but let go back with those who wait for me
Release me, release me!
Who are you?
Those strangers around me
Where's my life?
They create a life that's not mine
They don't stop talking to me
Have I lost it?
Why am I here?
I don't understand
This is not my site
they keep me here without escape
I don't know who you are
but let go back with those who wait for me
Release me, release me!
I don't understand
But it doesn't matter Shadows in my head tell me that nothing will be like before I only see darkness
This empty story every morning will revive
