

Agent Felix, Bailey Bridge

i wrote this song for my now ex-girlfriend but she hadn't heard it yet so i changed all the words so that she'll never know what it said all those witty lines about her thrown away and gone but i'll still think about her everytime I sing this song the place we used to go when we wanted to be alone under bailey bridge but now its falling down and i'm still here holding on to this telephone for 45 minutes but you hung up a half an hour ago and that stupid busy signal is ringing in my head till a voice came over and it said

please hang up the phone and try your call again maybe thats my sign to give it one last try do you remember when we were all about eachother walking hand in hand surrounded by a heart our names written in the sand and the sky that night was almost as beautiful as you but those days have come and gone and maybe we were wrong but its past and I won't dwell i'll take someone else
