

Agent Felix, But Not Enough

you busted up my pride with a hard shot I'm bleeding from my eyes still you wont stop my hands did the best they could but not enough so talk down to me again remind me how pathetic I am and how perfect you were disappointment offends and I could really use a friend but your not listening

I cried my eyes out begging for you to reach down still you watched me drown its never good enough for you I'm not enough for anyone
I'm not enough for anyone

don't let the direction of your finger blame me I'll break it off and shove it back through your teeth so now its pointed it you if I could have anything now what would it be I'd make sure that I owe you nothing then I'd spit in your face laugh and walk away and I'd never look back once it all be said and done all you ever take the time to see are the smallest faults that I didn't mean to have with me so don't say I didn't try cause that's not too fair to do cause all I did I did for you

what's the point in trying when its never good enough