

Agraceful, The Messengers Are Winds Pt. 1

We are children underneath a falling sky
We are not alone
I'm so far from home
This can't be happening
I'm so far from home
My eyes are open but I can't keep my head above the ground
How can I keep my head above the ground?
Now this is over I need You to bring me home
Home into Your arms
Now this is over I need this to stay the same for me tonight
You are the one
I am the one that You'll remember
We are not alone
And I am reaching
I'm reaching for this
This is the way that I keep myself from falling out
This is the way that I keep myself awake
Now I can feel Your hands as they pull me in
To carry me home again
You are the one
I am the one that You'll remember
