

Aimee Mann, Soon Enough

Everybody's got their differences, too bad
Here's a circumstance in which the stakes are high Everybody's got their secrets out, so sad
Go around the room and see who doesn't cry

Soon enough you'll be free to write it off
You don't know enough to call a bluff
And the one who does will never ever tell
Soon enough, you can say we made it up
Just for fun I guess
To make amends cause what's more fun
than other people's hell

So go ahead and say you're done with it
It's cool
Baby you could go whatever way you choose Though you ought to kill the whole vindictive bit cause you'll someday realize there's ties you'll want to use

Soon enough you'll be free to write it off
You don't know enough to call a bluff
And the one who does will never ever tell
Soon enough, you can say we made it up
Just for fun I guess
To make amends cause what's more fun
than other people's hell
Soon enough you'll be free

Everybody's got their differences too bad