Alastis, Remind

A new perception of the world Appearns in your mind And you retrieve your instincts On your decision Open gates on a new truth You undersand You're only temporar In this matter's body

Come on, slaves of rot Kneeling in front Of your torturer

Don't you feel that Through the hatred The light materializes From your cries of pain It comes alive On your destrissed it feasts

Come on,slaves of rot Kneeling in front Of your torturer

In each being
I guess the death
And if by mistake
You pass my way
Don't expect any fellow
And get ready for
Worst anxieties

Come on,slaves of rot Kneeling in front Of your torturer

I'll feast on the blackness Of your soul I'll spit on your Lowest supplications No ending,no beginning,I draw My force from your death

Come on,slaves of rot Kneeling in front Of your torturer
