

Alessia Cara, Growing Pains

Make my way through the motions
I try to ignore it but home's looking farther the closer I get don't know why I can see the end is it over yet? a short leash and a short fuse don't match they tell me it ain't that bad no don't you overreact so I just hold my breath don't know why I can't see the sun when young should be fun and I guess the bad can get better gotta be wrong before it's right every happy phrase engraved in my mind and I've always been a go-getter there's truth in every word I write but still the growing pains, growing pains they're keeping me up at night and I can't hide

cause growing pains are keeping me up at night I can't hide

of my content incomprehension as I take on the stress oh the mess that I've made don't know if I even care for grown if it's just alone
and I guess the bad can get better
gotta be wrong before it's right
but still the growing pains, growing pains

cause growing pains are keeping me up at night
