

Alexa Goddard, We Broke The Sky

Lose yourself why don't you, why you always holding on Lose your heart why don't you, why you always cold now
Find your way why don't you, don't be we can call about
I guess those who can't do, those who can't watch
Which side are you on?

Well you can if you want, you can run if you want
I won't stop you
But I can't sit and watch as you drown in the dark

You can't find the light
They'll say we've survived
With stars in our eyes
We broke the sky
We fought for our lives
Set flame to the night
With stars in our eyes
We broke the sky
We broke the sky
We broke the sky
We broke the sky

Find yourself why don't you, why you always so damn lost
Let me in why don't you, why you on a guard
I promise I won't hurt you, let me see just who you are
But I'm too far to save you, I will never be across

Well you can if you want, you can run if you want
I won't stop you
But I can't sit and watch as you drown in the dark

You can't find the light
They'll say we've survived
With stars in our eyes
We broke the sky
We fought for our lives
Set flame to the night
We broke the sky
We broke the sky
We broke the sky
We broke the sky

We broke the sky
We broke the sky
We broke the sky
We broke the sky

We broke oh we broke the sky
We broke oh we broke the sky
