Alice Cooper, Going Home

I'm going home There I am there in my bedrrom I'm safe and I'm snug and shoring And so glad to be there I'm going home None of this ever happened But God, I relly did it Still nothing has changed I'm going home I'm going home To my own room to all the mess To all the dirty laundry It looks so good I don't care I'm just so glad to be back home Sweet home I wonder if anyone missed me Or have I been gone so long They thought that I'd died How many said I wonder what happened to Alice How many shrugged or laughed How many cried But I don't give a damn 'Cuz I'm going home I'm going home To my own room to all the mess To all the dirty laundry It looks so good I don't care I'm just so glad to be back home I'm going home Nothing can stop me now
