

Alice Cooper, The Big Goodbye

I don't give a damn
Tomorrow I'll be movin' on
So why are we pretendin'?
'Cause you know who I am
It's what I told you all along
And you know this is endin'

I can't be your saint or shining knight
Ain't no way to paint this black heart white

You went to all that trouble
I hate to burst your bubble
But here comes the big goodbye!

You're looking for a man
A hero from a fairy tale
You're nothin' but a dreamer
'Cause, babe, I'm in a band
And I can't be your Holy Grail
I'm a liar and a schemer

I know I took your heart last night
But now it's time to see the light

You went to all that trouble
And I hate to burst your bubble
But here comes the big goodbye!

I can't be your saint or shining knight
So now it's time to see the light

You went to all that trouble
And I hate to burst your bubble
And though your heart is breakin'
There ain't no point in fakin'
So here comes the big goodbye!