

Alien Ant Farm, Rubber Mallet

Cable cars run through my mind.
I think up north on Valentine.
Maybe we drink to old friends.
You should go, she's on my mind again.
I lost my only enemy.
So I reminisce thoughts, try and be true.
Takes me back when I had to choose, and I don't ever lose.
Someone's makin me love and I don't think it's you.
Sleep, and I don't ever dream.
Someone caught me lying and I don't ever dream.
Indecision breaks my vision, and I don't give a damn.
Reminisce thoughts, try and be true.
Then I played you out like a rubix cube,
and I don't ever lose.
Someones' making me love and I don't think it's you.
Free from all disease now I'm clean.
You just punched a hole and it won't seem to bleed.
Only the two of us.
