

Alissa Moreno, Next Time

Let me out, slow it down, I'll get off here
It's been a rush for both of us
But i just can't shake this fear
So I'll go away, with nothing to say
But you're gonna be just fine
We got all of track so I'm putting you back
Maybe you'll get it right next time
A fairy tale, we'd never fail
It all looked so good
Now you want more but I'm not sure
That I ever could give you all that you need
So I'll go away with nothing to say
But you're gonna be just fine
We got all off track so I'm putting you back
Maybe you'll get it right next time
By the time I came back home
You were gone
Now I close my eyes and I try to fight
The pain in my heart but I still relive
And I can't forgive
The night I tore us apart
So I'll go away with nothing to say
But you're gonna be just fine
We got all off track so I put you back
Thinking you'd get it right next time
Yeah, I went away with nothing to say
But you're gonna be just fine
We got all off track so I put you back
Maybe I'll get it right next time
