ALKALINE TRIO

Miscellaneous

Madamme

The sunrise fills your eyes, cannot hear your cries

Pleading please just go away

I can't take another day of this

No surprise, a surplus of lies, freed from the skies

Is there something that I missed?

Can't even take another day of this

Lower than piss, have you ever felt like this?

She can't recall the last time she avoided it

Lower than piss, have you ever felt like this?

Judging by your eyes like crystal balls

Madam Me is predicting that your answer will be yes

The sunrise burned out your eyes, failed to apologize

As it was eating at your face, took your smile away without a trace of it

Warmer than piss have you ever felt like this?

It just might take a fever to encounter it

Knee deep in shit there's no avoiding it

From your knees you're coated brown, to your toes there is no sound like this

And I will keep you warm in hell

And I will keep you warm in hell

And I will keep you warm in hell
