

Allen/Olzon, Never Die

So many years had past
But it feels like one long day
Can I stop the time

Please tell me, is there a way?

The world I used to know a thousand tears ago
Is it still alive?

Where will you go
When the world around you changes at the speed of light?
All you've ever know nothing stays the same
A new world is on your eyes but the old will never die

There's a secret place where I locked away my memories
Hoping day I save
I'm down preying on my knees
The laughs we use to live the stories we've been it
Is it all alive?

Where will you go
When the world around you changes at the speed of light?
All you've ever know nothing stays the same
A new world is on your eyes but the old will never die
No the old will never die

The world I used to know a thousand tears ago
Is it still alive?

Where will you go
When the world around you changes at the speed of light?
All you've ever know nothing stays the same
A new world is on your eyes but the old will never die
Never die
No the old will never die
