ALO, Pobrecito

Jealousy is gonna tear us apart
If you let it take hold
A poison from the brain to the heart
That'll bleed the love from your soul
And break what once was whole

Until you're left with lots of little pieces Solidified by the slamming of a door So don't let that jealousy overtake you Make you destroy that which you care for

And the Spanish temptress rubbed his temples and told him to close his eyes " Here sip on this and everything will be all right equot;

"Pobrecito" Pass me some more of that Spanish fly "Esperate un minuto" I need something to dilute my mind

"Tu no sabes es posible que nunca regrese" But he didn't hear a word that was said Slobbering he sucked down another Ignoring the danger closing in

You gotta let the bat fly, out of its cave You shouldn't wait another minute If it's making your heart break
