

ALPINES, OASIS

You keep me stirring in my sleep at night
We're balancing between the wrong and right
You keep on saying it's not like before but we're like venus and mars

We're like venus and mars
We're like venus and mars

And I know I've gotta trust myself when there's nobody else
And I know I've gotta trust myself when there's nobody else

In this oasis where the lines blur
When you're with me you're thinking of her
In this oasis where the lines blur
You tell me one thing then you paint another picture

Then you paint another picture

I broke the rules when I let you back in Now we're trapped in the "What could have been?"
Playing the fool like I don't see the signs
You're in and out of my life

You're in and out of my life
You're in and out of my life

And I know I've gotta trust myself when there's nobody else
And I know I've gotta trust myself when there's nobody else

In this oasis where the lines blur
When you're with me you're thinking of her
In this oasis where the lines blur
You tell me one thing then you paint another picture

Then you paint another picture

You're telling me such sweet little lies
You forgot about the yours and mine
Oh, sweet little lies, such sweet little lies
Yours and mine

You're telling me such sweet little lies
You forgot about the yours and mine
Oh, sweet little lies, such sweet little lies

In this oasis where the lines blur
When you're with me you're thinking of her
In this oasis where the lines blur
You tell me one thing then you paint another picture

In this oasis where the lines blur
When you're with me you're thinking of her
In this oasis where the lines blur
You tell me one thing then you paint another picture

Then you paint another picture
Then you paint another picture
