

Alter Bridge, Dying Light

here we go again
it's coming on just like before the same iold sinking feeling pulls me down an endless hole

the heavy lifting as I fret for what might be if this is the beginning of the end then let me dream

in the eye of the srorm from the moment we're born

in the dying light
we learn to live
when we give in
to the silent waves that crash inside

in the dying light
we can begin
to live again
when we wake up to eternal life

let this be an exercise in how to face your fears step into the realm of madness if you dare, my dear

we are lost in the swim

in the dying light
when we give in

in the dying light
we can begin
to live again

all that we need passes by
until we concede
and design
this mortal coil into the light

here we go again
it's coming on just sinking feeling

in the dying light
we learn to live
when we give in

we can begin
