

ALTERS, Dawn

I feel the scent od dawn
Your skin drives me insane
I begged you not to come
Now I'm begging you to stay

I know they'll come for us
My mind starts to fade
I begged you not to come
But you were not afraid

I know you're not like them
I can hear them through the night
Their bodies are less than air
Your body is made of light

I will be on my way
Before you count to ten
I begged you not to come
Now you know I won't be back again
