

Ana Johnsson, Still

Seven years ago we first fell in love
Seven years since my heart came undone
Oh the memory still makes me warm
Cos I love you still

And I will learn to go on
I'll smile when I'm expected to
I know I will
Yeah I will learn to move on
But I love you still

So they say that all wounds heal with time
Then how come time is not healing mine?
It's like you've locked yourself into my mind
And I love you still

How I wish I could go back
I'd never let us make the same mistakes again
How I wish I could go back
Cos I love you still

Been counting endless nights and days
You're hundred thousands miles away
But I feel you
And what I feel will never change
All tomorrows for one yesterday
Cos I love you still
Yeah, I love you, love you still
I'm pretending yo be strong
Fooling myself everyday saying I'm ok
When there's mothing left I will hold on
I will still love you still
I will still love you still
