

Andrew Bird's Bowl of Fire, Candy Shop

Well, piece by piece and nail by nail
It'll all come down someday before the fires of hell
You let me in your house
You let me in your house
You let me in your house with a hammer
Set to tile or set to stone
Tit for tat and bone for bone
I'm goin' to set fire to your glamor
Well, it's now rock that candy shop
Rock that candy shop
Rock that candy shop, set it on fire
Run away and watch it burn
I've got to set fire to your glamor
Rock that candy shop
Rock that candy shop
Rock that candy shop, set it on fire
Run away and watch it burn
Smell the ashes in the air
Of this silly game we're sure to tire
Well, you let me in your house
You let me in your house
You let me in your house with a hammer
Set to tile or set to stone
Tit for tat and bone for bone
I'm goin' to set fire to your glamor, yes, to your glamor
Yes, little mama, to your glamor, to your
Let it rock
Listen to me now, let it rock, let it rock now
Rock that candy shop
