

Angel Dust, Come Into Resistance

I lay awake every night, thinking about what to do
I already know we will surely come to a row
Agressions send out with might,
We will darken the light
Gotta meet a new friend, I need to speak
I'm talking to you, because I'm so cofused, I am insane
Somewhere I heard, we will soon come to war. What to do?
So, join our secret circle
Now, come into resistance!
Please don't judge me
For I'm too scared
But who'll take care of my dears?
So untrue brave new world seems to me, mankind's cruel
Soon we'll reciprocate kill each and all
Need to do anything, there must be a way out of disaster
World still turns 'round but how far can we go? - I don't know
So, join our secret circle
Now, come into resistance!
Please don't judge me
For I'm too scared
But who'll take care of my love?
I see a coming hell - earth will release the dead
I feel the pain of all you - who are condermned to death
I feel the lineliness - of those who are left home
God is already gone from us
Back into nothingness
Please don't judge me for I'm too scared
I cannot leave my dears alone
Please don't judge me for I'm too scared
I'm not alone - alone
