

Ania Dąbrowska, I See

i see your face something familiar you have in your eyes many times i felt just the same as you're feeling now i thought that i'll be able to help you and maybe i tried forgive me please (please) i didn't mean to do anything wrong

if i could just disappear you're so sweet and i'm not real
i will have to walk away too much love to take

you blind my eyes light i have never thought such can be i defend i guess it's me who is afraid let me go
'cos i dont know if i can give you the same what you still waiting for words i will say
crime i will do
