

Anita Lipnicka, Bluebeard

You stood for all that's true and honest
It makes you feel hollow
You can't decide which path to follow
You dig your own hole

Are you coming out tonight?
We're going for a drive
The answer is in your eyes
The voice inside your head
Says: "Stay at home and stare"
At the demons that thrive inside
Wouldn't you love to know
How the person inside survives
Is it any wonder you
Get sucked under

And you can't rely on those you turn to
They turn against you
You don't know why you whored those values
Which burn your soul blue

Are you coming out tonight?
We're going for a drive
The answer is in your eyes
The voice inside your head
Says: "Stay at home and stare"
At the demons that thrive inside
Wouldn't you love to know
How the person inside survives
Is it any wonder you
Get sucked under
Get sucked under
Get sucked under
Get sucked under

Are you coming out tonight?
We're going for a drive
The answer is in your eyes...
