

Anna Tsuchiya, Grooving Beating

I don't know what I should wear and oh my god it's past five
It's the thrill of meeting him that's
Stinging me like a knife
Can you believe?
He's on his way to my door
It's not a dream
And I'm not asking for more
Can you think of something I could talk about?
I really didn't think he's gonna ask me out
He likes The Beatles but I like Rolling Stones
And motor sport is not my thing
Is that OK?
Why, Why, this shining feeling?
My heart is grooving, beating.
I feel so alive
Why, Why, this shining feeling?
My heart is grooving, beating.
I feel so alive
You know how I fell for him just years ago
Is this fate?
One look at his gorgeous eyes and I knew
It was to late
Can you believe?
He's on his way to my door
It's not a dream
And I'm not asking for more
And these years I thought it's stupid waiting here
For him to notice what I feel...it's crystal clear
Once I even tried to love another guy
But now I know it's worth the time
Cause he is mine
Why, Why, this shining feeling?
My heart is grooving, beating.
I feel so alive
Why, Why, this shining feeling?
My heart is grooving, beating.
I feel so alive
Why, Why, this shining feeling?
My heart is grooving, beating.
I feel so alive
Why, Why, this shining feeling?
My heart is grooving, beating.
I feel so alive
