

ANNEKE VAN GIERSBERGEN, Agape

And if i sit beside you
And if i wait
And if i Wonder off
Into this state
Would i be fine
And could i call you mine
And have you near
For a thousand years

If i wake u beside you
And touch your smile
The world would disappear for a while
We'd hide in space
Or any other place
Immortal souls will always find their ways

The darkest skies are the brightest
In the shadows of our eyes There's a star
The darkest skies are the brightest
In every Chance we long to take
Lies a radiant golden shimmering luminous star*
