Designing A Nervous Breakdown
The D In Detroit

Feeling the time peel away at my life again.
As memories combine, not sure where i've ever been.
'cause it's the d in detroit which scars me to no end. i'll count to ten.
When living this down makes so much sense.

We collide - and onward we do fly
We collide - and onward we do fly
Onward - until we hit again.

I kept your picture just behind the eye those weeks when our distance grew.
Drove north where i found you waiting in des moines - thank god i'm not losing you
And girl i hope you're not alone - and sleep through this weather
And girl i hope you're whole again - back home we'll sleep better.

We collide - and onward we do fly
We collide - and onward we do fly

I kept your picture just behind the eye those weeks when our distance grew.
Drove north where i found you waiting in des moines - thank god i'm not losing you
And girl i hope you're not alone - and sleep through this weather
And girl i hope you're whole again - back home we'll sleep better
