Anthony David, Cold Turkey

Cold turkey, you can't expect me to quit, do you baby? Cold turkey, feelings don't go away so easy Just a little more time and I swear I'll leave you alone But tonight I got this jones coming down It's 3 o'clock and I woke up with the shakes So I called you up for the remedy I know I woke ya, get on up I'm coming over And don't be acting like you don't remember me I want some of that good, good loving Like the kind that we used to making How I used to make you shake for hours after, yeah Now I don't know what you did to me You must've put something in my food 'Cause baby you got me all caught up in the rapture, yeah I can't go Cold turkey, you can't expect me to quit, do you baby? Cold turkey, feelings don't go away so easy Just a little more time and I swear I'll leave you alone But tonight I got this jones coming down I'm finding out real quick, I just can't have anybody in my bedroom 'Cause when I want it, it's got to be you right And though I threw away your number and I tried not to remember Got it locked inside my brain memorized, showing off Don't tell me that you don't recall all the fun that we used to have And how I used to make you laugh and cry sometimes sugar Now, I don't believe you when you say That you ain't really thinking about me
