

Anthony Hamilton, Change Your World

[Verse 1]

I'd be in the hall of fame the mere mentioning of your name if they knew i loved you the way that I did and kissin couldn't be a shame, when you love someone, and fallin in love there's no blame when i said and done, and I never knew, about this thing, yeah, cause there were no clues, oh what a sha

[Chorus]

oh when you stop, and start falling in love, it changes your whole world, turns you upside down, I never knew about real love, it changes your whole world, turns your world upside down

[Verse 2]

I must admit I stand accused of falling in love, long before you said hello, and I said I do, it was all new to me, an unfamiliar world a beauty unknown to man and a cure for the blues and I never knew about this thing yeah, and oh there were no clues, oh oh what a shame

[Chorus]
