

Antony & The Johnsons, Deeper Than Love

My heart is broken
Here in the cup of my hands
From between cracked fingers
Old blood spills

I had to move on, baby
For when I tasted my own tears
They were too sweet
And I knew that I had come to close

And I have tried to shine in the darkness
Entertaining vanities in vain

Fall deeper
Fall deeper

My heart is broken
Here in the cup of my hands
From between cracked fingers
Old blood spills

I had to move on, baby
For when I tasted my own tears
They were too sweet
And I knew that I had come to close

And I have tried to shine in the darkness
Entertaining vanities in vain
But now won't you come with me
As I open my eyes

And hold on
Hold on
And let go
Let go
Let the virus live a life
Hold on
And hold on
And let go
Let go
And fall deeper
Even than love
Even than love
Hold on
And fall deeper
Even than love
Even than love
Even than love...
