

Aqualung, Just For A Moment

just for a moment
everything i treasured was gone
just for a moment
I faced my life alone
oh how i love you
just for a moment
the world was full of pain
just for a moment
my luck had finally run out
the same thing that blew us together might blow us apart
so keep a piece of me precious and close to your heart
just for a moment
all of my nightmares came true
just for a moment
my heart was broken in two oh how i need you
oh how i'd miss you
oh how i love you
