take your time to find me I can't promise where I'll be these nights I felt so restless tonight I feel useless take your time to find me I can't promise where I'll be these nights I feel so restless tonight I'm useless blaming myself for every woman I should have thought this through before I hold you down with me motionless I lay when your words could save me from this situation I've been laying here for what seems like days and it was my mistake from the start take your time to find me I can't promise where I'll be it was my mistake from the start take your time to find me I can't promise where I'll be it was my mistake from the start motionless I lay when the words that saved me staring back into dead sunk eyes? I need the right words to come... I need the the right words but I just can't find it I just can't find it I'll spend years making you believe I was just a bad dream just a bad dream and it was my mistake from the start I've been laying here for what seems like days take your time to find me I can't promise where I'll be it was my mistake from the start take your time to find me I can't promise where I'll be it was my mistake from the start I'm determined to find a way, out to disconnect myself from you, again how can I have shattered my one chance ooow, to you how can I feel like I'm shattered my ooohooo to me I'll spend years making you believe that I was only a bad dream I'm determined to find a way, out to disconnect myself

from you, again how can I have shattered my one chance ooow, to you how can I feel like I'm shattered my once chance tonight
