

Archive, End Of Our Days

Holding me down
I can't believe
I am drowning somehow
Fall to my knees
I need peace from the sound
Sounds of deceiving
My love of your pain

Look through the crowd
Searching for something
To turn us around
Love never hides
When it wants to be found
All we can know is this has to be now

Say, you've never seen something so beautiful
I am your dream
Tell me I'm everything you'll ever need
I'm for you
Time is the key
Give me your heart
And you'll see what I see
Turning in circles
To find what you seek
This is the feeling I want to release

Take all my pain
I'm just a soul to be lost in your hands
Take me wherever your spirit will fade
I'll be with you till the end of our days

Holding me down
I can't believe
I am drowning somehow
Fall to my knees
I need peace from the sound
Sound of deceiving
My love of your pain

Look through the crowd
Searching for something
To turn us around
Love never hides
When it wants to be found
All we can know is this has to be now

Is this the time to be taken around
Is this the line I will cross it somehow
I'm taking the feeling I caught from your pain
And turning it all into something to gain

Hurt doesn't show when it's trying to rain
Feelings are all that we have to be saved
Running, I'm running the fight to get free
Taking the only thing that's left of me
