

Archive, Greater Goodbye

What was I doing here?
Met you in hell or somewhere
You were looking for a friend
You told lies to keep afloat
You drugged me when you said hello
Scared and slipping down your hole
Crack my head and watch it flow
I stumbled on another rock
You kissed me once but you forgot
You left me with a punctured heart
I slowly sank and fell apart
I don't know how I ended in
A body dripping deep in sin
Your skin is cold and leaves no light
Like a blistered freezing night
You attract the low of them all
Please don't ever let me know
If you should ever pass me by

Nothing could be greater
Nothing could be greater
Nothing could be greater
Nothing could be greater
Nothing could be greater than a goodbye
