Archive, Greater Goodbye

What was I doing here? Met you in hell or somewhere You were looking for a friend You told lies to keep afloat You drugged me wen you said hello Scared and slipping down your hole Crack my head and watch it flow I stumbled on another rock You kissed me once but you forgot Yoy left me with a punctured heart I slowly sak and fell apart I don't know how I ended in A body dripping deep in sin Your skin is cold and leaves no light Like a blistered freezing night You attract the low of them al Please don't ever let me know If you should ever pass me by

Nothing could be greater tha goodbye
