

Archive, Head Heavy

Every head spans a mile
Letting out a sigh
Breathing in hollow dirt
Follow to be sure

Not to miss the fading light
Listen at the door
Every step another stain
Well thank God for that

You escaped without a name
You made it to the edge
Keeping in, creeping out
Live your head heavy