

Arion, At The Break Of Dawn (ft. Elize Ryd)

And I know
We have to run before we're at the break of dawn

No one can win this war
Wiseest to close that door
To erase what we've adored
The memories and the dreams we have lived for

It's the time to kill this fear
We're both degenerating year by year
I thought it would be always clear
'til the end we both had sworn to be sincere

Crossed the line too many times, our world is upside down
Can't go on, it's the time to turn around

And I know
We have to let it go
Escape before we lie on ocean floor
I know
When all the hope is gone
We have to run before we're at the break of dawn

No one turned the hourglass
Forget and leave the past behind
And I will always ask
Why anything that's beautiful can't last

It's the time to make it right
Turn back and walk towards the light
The dark can be turned bright
We'll end this twisted fairytale tonight

Close your eyes for just one time and lose your paradise
All we had is gone, it must be sacrificed

And I know
We have to let it go
Escape before we lie on ocean floor
And I know
When all the hope is gone
We have to run before we're at the break of dawn

And I know
We have to let it go
Escape before we lie on ocean floor
And I know
When all the hope is gone
We have to run before we're at the break of dawn
